Marie-Célie Agnant

born in Port-au-Prince and living in Montréal for the past twenty-five years, Marie-Célie Agnant writes for a variety of publications as a free-lance collaborator. A poet, she is the author of BALAFRES published in 1994, and as a novelist, her latest book LA DOT DE SARA came out this November.

Excerpts from "The Passionate Eye" on female infanticide in China will precede our guest speaker. After, a period of questions will be followed by a general discussion. Sponsored by the Simone de Beauvoir Institute, for information : 848-2370.
